This week's reading starts tonight with Chapter 9, Tuesday in Chapter 10 and Thursday night read Chapter 11.

Our Factivation skill this week is multiplying by 9. Students are learning strategies for solving facts that are unknown, but the goal is to have them memorized. Start reviewing briefly at home. We've done 0, 1, 2, 5 and this week 9.

Rigor

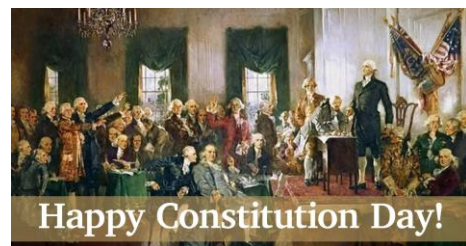

A concept describing either an assignment that challenges students to use critical thinking skills or a learning environment that is challenging but supportive and engaging.

School is moving at a good pace now and RIGOR is picking up. Keep pushing your young student to REACH FOR THE STARS!

We have the privilege of learning about the Constitution of the United States, the supreme law of the land, over the next several days. We will also be memorizing the Preamble.

Proud to be an American!
